

2022 Stahlman Beekeeping E-mail Notes Issue #51a

I hope you are warm and safe during the start of this winter season only a few days away. Our land has been hammered by tornados, heavy snow and freezing temperatures. I have been busy trying to do some house cleaning, catching up with family, and look out the window at my hives of bees. So far in North Carolina the cold has not reached us like it has so many of you living in the north.

It is my wish that everyone of you have a:

Merry Christmas and A Happy New Year!

2022 ends on Dec. 31 and I will send out Issue # 52 then. I am taking this next week off to enjoy the Holiday Season.
