

2023 Stahlman Beekeeping E-mail Notes Issue #35a

`We are now having fall like temperatures and winter management is on most of our minds. For most of us, our honey is extracted. The subject of how to handle wax and how to use it has come up. Over the last eight years I have had to extract honey with a four frame extractor and I loan it out to friends to use as well. How I work with wax is very limited to the small amount of wax I need to process. Any ideas you might have or methods you use I will share with others that read this newsletter.
