

2024 Stahlman Beekeeping E-mail Notes Issue #42a

I wish all of you have a great new year! I am planning for the weekly issues to begin with the first issue coming out next week for 2025. So far, my schedule to speak is beginning to fill up. Already May and June are booked. I would like to mention one individual who I greatly admire and appreciate for his support in helping spread publication of my notes -- Ken Hoover, a beekeeper and friend. Ken bought queens from me at one time making a special trip to Columbus to pick them up and our friendship continues to this day. He lives in Pennsylvania near where my great grandfather and his four sons farmed and had bees. Thus, this issue is dedicated to Ken and his wife for making sure each of the issues of Stahlman Beekeeping Notes get on their club web site. www.ccbee.org
