

2024 Stahlman Beekeeping E-mail Notes Issue #4a

Finally, I had a chance to open hives and inspect my bees. Can you believe weather in the 70's and next week back to winter. I have started some plants in my greenhouse and am thankful that my heating bill is not going out of sight. I use propane and electricity.

This year is going to be a busy one. Already have flight reservation in hand -- back to Europe in September. Plans to do our annual trip to the finger lakes and return to Lake Superior this summer. Will also visit Ohio a couple of times as well.

My speaking schedule is filling up fast. Just wish I were 60 again.
